Viking joins Crusades in VALHALLA RISING

"When it comes to crazy, violent, semidelirious, testosterone-laden, proto-Viking tales about a mute visionary one-eyed warrior who breaks skulls, VALHALLA RISING is pretty great." Entertainment Weekly's appraisal pretty much sums up the appeal of the striking and cinematic new English-language film by Denmark's Nicolas Winding Refn (THE PUSHER TRILOGY, BRONSON), a Cinematheque favorite. Danish superstar Mads Mikkelsen (PUSHER, CASINO ROYALE) plays the heavily-tattooed, 11th-century Nordic slave/warrior/hero who has mystical visions and falls in with a group of Christian Viking crusaders headed to the Holy Land. Evoking the hallucinatory, crypto-religious work of both Andrei Tarkovsky and Werner Herzog, this pagan rhapsody is sure to find a cult following. Watch the trailer and then see the whole film in a 35mm color and scope print on Friday, Saturday, or Sunday. It's for adults only.

ALAMAR is breathtaking Mexican fable

In Pedro González-Rubio's 2009 Mexican stunner ALAMAR, a divorced father decides to bond with his five-year-old son before the child moves away to Rome with his Italian mother. Traveling to a pristine reef in the impossibly blue Caribbean, the father, a fisherman, gives his son a crash course in living in harmony with nature. This elemental tale is sensuously photographed and suitable for all ages. ALAMAR (TO THE SEA) has an www.allmetacritic.com rating of 77 (out of 100). See it Friday or Saturday. Kids 12 & under are only $6.

CIA's new president Grafton Nunes introduces MY DARLING CLEMENTINE

On Monday the Cleveland Institute of Art's new president Grafton Nunes, a film scholar and former film producer (he produced Kathryn Bigelow's first feature THE LOVELESS), introduces one of his all-time favorite movies: MY DARLING CLEMENTINE (1946). This is John Ford's lyrical take on Wyatt Earp (Henry Fonda) and Doc Holliday (Victor Mature) and the gunfight at the O.K. Corral, and it's one of his greatest movies. It will be shown in a restored 35mm print from the Twentieth Century Fox film archive. Special admission price of $10 (members and CIA students & staff $7) includes a modest cookies-and-coffee reception from 6 to 7 pm.

This is a vertical advertisement for the Cleveland Hits website. At the top, the text "Adapt to the music revolution." is written in a bold, black, sans-serif font. Below this, the words "LOG ON..." are displayed in a large, red, blocky font. The central image is a close-up of a man's face, looking directly at the viewer with a serious expression. He has a goatee and is wearing a black t-shirt. His right hand is raised, pointing directly at the camera. On his forehead, there are several yellow and red jagged, starburst-like graphics. At the bottom left, the text "Great music, prizes, & more!" is written in a red, sans-serif font, followed by "clevelandhits.com" in a smaller black font. A red starburst graphic is positioned to the right of the text. At the bottom right, the text "studio@clevelandhits.com • http://www.ClevelandHits.com ©2002" is written vertically in a small black font. In the bottom left corner, there is a small red logo that says "printing by: HOTCARDS.NET 216.832.7317".
